

the Blue and Grey at Sea

CIVIL WAR NAVAL BATTLES

Explore the engaging story of maritime strategy and siege up close through art and artifacts.

The Blue & Grey at Sea tells the stories of the great naval battles of the Civil War. Learn about the ships and the men that fought these battles.

The exhibit features dozens of paintings, historic artifacts, and weapons.

See the reverse for more details about the exhibition.

THE UNION LEAGUE LEGACY FOUNDATION

The Blue & Grey at Sea, presented by The Union League Legacy Foundation, is currently on display in The Sir John Templeton Heritage Center. The Heritage Center is home to the Legacy Foundation; the space is a celebration of the rich history, heritage and traditions of The Union League of Philadelphia, and serves as a portal to the community. The Legacy Foundation encourages members, scholars, students and others to view, research and interact with the archives and collections through both the rotating exhibitions and the research center.

The Legacy Foundation is dedicated to the same tenets of freedom and free enterprise upon which the Union League was founded, and through historic preservation, education, and scholarship promotes these values and ideals, inspiring more educated, engaged, and responsible citizens.

Public Hours:

Tuesday and Thursday, 3:00–6:00pm

Second Saturday of every month, 1:00–4:00pm

Member Hours:

Monday through Friday, 9:00am–6:00pm

Second Saturday of every month, 1:00–4:00pm

For more information:

The Union League Legacy Foundation

The Heritage Center of the Union League

140 South Broad Street

Philadelphia, PA 19102

email: legacyfoundation@unionleague.org

call: 215.587.5596

www.ullegacy.org

front and back: Courtesy of Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division